

COURT TO HEAR SHERIFF'S SIDE OF KRATZ CASE

Bates County Official and Attorney Francisco Deny Charge of Attempt to Bribe Prospective Member of the Jury Panel at Putler.

SECOND IMPEACHMENT OF SHERIFF'S ACTS IN CASE

Testified That Lawyer Said He Was Going to St. Louis and Would Get Money to Hang Jury, if Not to Acquitt Kratz.

BUTLER, Mo., Sept. 27.—Attorney John S. Francisco and Joseph T. Smith, sheriff of Bates County, have been given until Monday by Judge W. W. Graves to file affidavits answering the charge of Kratz, a farmer, that he was promised $200 by Francisco for his vote as a juror to acquitt Charles Kratz, former member of the St. Louis City Council, charged with bribery.

Both men named in Hunt's affidavit have filed counter affidavits through H. C. Clark, partner of Francisco, in which Francisco says he never talked with Hunt of the Kratz case and Sheriff Smith declares that he did not talk with him further than to summon him for jury service.

Other statements in the Hunt affidavit, as told in the Post-Dispatch Monday, Circuit Attorney Joseph W. Folk surprised the Kratz defense and the court when he asked the court to dismiss the jury panel, adding that he had a witness—a juror—who would testify as to the cause for dismissal.

"Let the witness come forward," said the court, and Charles G. Hunt, a prominent Bates County farmer, who had been summoned on the jury panel, took the stand and accused John S. Francisco, one of the attorneys for Kratz, of offering him $200 if he should aid in an acquittal or a hung jury, or $25 if he should be scratched from the panel. Sheriff Smith, he averred, had told him that there was going to be money used in the case and that he wanted his friends to get the benefit of it.

The scene created was dramatic. Attorney Francisco was in court, and the sheriff was in his box. Hunt pointed out both of them frequently, and the crowded courtroom was hushed.

Second Panel to Be Dismissed.

Hunt first told his story to Circuit Attorney Folk, when the latter spoke at Appleton City two weeks ago. A correspondent of a Kansas City newspaper was dining with Mr. Folk when Hunt appeared and told Mr. Folk he had something to tell him. Mr. Folk and the correspondent listened, and the latter came yesterday, when Hunt repeated on the witness stand what he had told the circuit attorney.

The story of Hunt's charge is here fully told.

Hunt took the stand with a serious expression on his face, and before beginning his affidavit, said:

"I'm poor, and need money, but I don't want any money made in such a way. There are a good many things wrong here in this county, but not many have the backbone to say so."

The affidavit on which Mr. Folk asked that the jury panel be dismissed followed. It is the second intimation of jury tampering in the Kratz case. Judge Graves having dismissed the last panel because he was dissatisfied with it.

Prosecuting Attorney A. B. Ludwick of Bates County is determined to follow up the affidavit of Hunt, and he says if the study of the affidavit shows a legal offense he will proceed to prosecute.

The grand jury shall hear of the case, too," he said.

Says Sheriff Approached Him.

Circuit Attorney Folk conducted the examination of Hunt, which was as follows:

Q. What is your name? A. Charles G. Hunt.

Q. You live in this county? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you a member of the venire from which the Kratz jury was to be selected? A. I am on the list. I never have been summoned.

Q. Will you proceed and give full detailed statements of any conversations that you had with the late juror in reference to sitting on the jury in the Kratz case? A. Let me see. It was the day of the Republican convention. I was up here and Joe Smith said to me.

Q. That is the sheriff here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How would you like to be on the Kratz jury? I told him that I could arrange my business so that I could get out of the county for a few days, and that there was no more said at the time being. But that evening he told me, he says: "I say to you as a brother, don't mention this to anybody. There is going to be some money used during this case. I know they are going to use it, and as long as it is going to be used I would like to see my friends get the benefit of it."

Q. The sheriff said that to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So there was the day Bryan spoke, I don't remember the day of the month, I think. Though it was the 29th day of August, I met Francisco in the middle of the street between here and the north side of the square and he shook hands and said about my wife and baby, and as I was going over this way he came over and we sat and talked right here at a table for quite a little bit, and when I got up to leave he says, "I want to see you before I leave town. That was all I said. We went upstairs together."

Q. "I presume you understand we want to hear this case?" I says, "Yes." He says, "I want to hear it. I want to hear it to beat it. Now of course, this is a case, you know, but I don't want it mentioned to anybody, but there is

WITNESSES IN JANZOW CASE MUSTN'T WINK

Commissioner Warns Defendants That No Communication Pass Between Them While They Are Giving Depositions in Pastor's Suit.

LONG SESSION CONSUMED IN GETTING A SINGLE ANSWER

Whenever Issue Was Flatly Presented, Linguistic Difficulties Intervened to Prevent Witness From Giving Satisfying Answer.

Long and fruitless cross-examination was brought to an abrupt stop Tuesday morning during the taking of depositions in room 90, Railway Exchange building, in the suit of Rev. Charles L. Janzow, pastor of Bethlehem Evangelical Lutheran church, against eighteen members of his congregation for $15,000, alleging defamation of character.

Attorney Wm. F. Smith, representing Pastor Janzow, openly inferred that the witness then on the stand, John A. Lochmann, was being guided in his answers by glances received from other defendants sitting opposite him.

The charge, which was loosely veiled, came after an hour and fifteen minutes had been consumed in securing an answer to one question:

"What promise to you did you, in church meeting, charge Pastor Janzow with breaking?"

The witness' stock of English gave out with such regularity when this question was pressed that Attorney Smith demanded that Lochmann's seat be changed.

While the request was being hotly objected to by Attorney Wehrenbrecht, Mr. Lochmann changed his position voluntarily so that thereafter, during the morning session, he sat facing Pastor Janzow, so close that the knees of the two almost touched.

The incident called forth a warning from Special Commissioner Higginbotham, appointed by Judge Fisher to examine and make returns on the case, that signals of promptings would not be tolerated.

Attorney Smith eventually secured from the witness the statement that he would not divulge out a matter of defendant Ulrich, which also hinged upon another promise.

This singular line of examination brought out nothing tangible from Lochmann at the morning session of value to either plaintiff or defendants. Lochmann was excused from the stand at 12:10 o'clock.

Witness Is Second Witness.

The second witness was Henry F. Mueller, of 334 North Eleventh street, aged 57, the white-haired president of the Bethlehem Evangelical congregation, and rated as the wealthiest member.

Mr. Mueller, a retired capitalist, is named as the first witness in the petition of Pastor Janzow, with having said that he had been promised a large sum of money by the defendants to break up his life by relating his life as a tailor, cigar manufacturer, a speculator, a tourist and finally a retired capitalist. The following examination was conducted:

Explain, Mr. Mueller, what you know of the witness of Erich Mueller.

"I said he had mediated in the Schwartz affair and had been in the congregation of the church and the school."

The witness was taken with Mr. Mueller still on the witness stand.

ST. LOUIS TRAIN WRECKED; 30 HURT

Iron Mountain's Hot Springs Passenger Derailed Near Vulcan, Mo., Four Cars Leaving Track.

PIEDMONT, Mo., Sept. 27.—Southbound passenger train, No. 17, on the St. Louis and Iron Mountain railroad, which left St. Louis last night for Hot Springs, Ark., struck a trestle near Vulcan, Mo., 15 miles from St. Louis, at 1 o'clock this morning.

Four cars were derailed, resulting in the injury of over 30 persons, some of whom are seriously hurt.

The case derailed were the baggage, chair, ordinary coach and sleeper.

The wrecking train, with the general superintendent of the road and physicians to care for the injured, was summoned from St. Louis.

The injured will be taken to St. Louis.

Tees Crushed by Elevator.

Hugh McCullen of 323 1/2 Blair avenue was caught on his right foot broken by catching his foot in the space between an elevator and the second floor. He is confined at the Hot Springs Co. factory, where the accident happened. His foot was drenched at the City Hospital, where it was found to be badly lacerated. He was later removed to his home.

JUSTICE BREWER LAUDS THE FAIR

Famous Federal Jurist Says Exposition Is Far Greater Than He Had Expected.

WON'T TALK PUBLIC AFFAIRS

United States Judge Is Here to Attend Lawyers' Convention and Renew Old Acquaintances.

DAVID BREWER, ASSOC. JUSTICE U.S. SUPREME COURT.

"The World's Fair certainly surpasses all my expectations of greatness, and I had expected much."

So declared David J. Brewer, associate justice of the United States supreme court, who has been in St. Louis several days attending the Congress of Arts and Sciences and visiting the World's Fair. He is to be the presiding officer of the International Congress of Lawyers and Jurists, which convenes in the Hall of Congresses Wednesday.

Justice Brewer is an affable and pleasant talker. He talks willingly upon any subject except those relating to matters which are now in his court or which are likely to come before him. He is wont to tell and which you greatly desire to know.

There is a vast difference between Justice Brewer in his judicial robes and Justice Brewer in his plain, dull gray summer suit.

"No, it really surprises me that there is not a much larger attendance at the Exposition," he continued.

"Still, that can be accounted for by the fact that the people of the North and East believe St. Louis is a very hot place in the summer and the greater number of these people have planned visiting the Fair in October."

"There is certainly a vast amount of knowledge for them to receive when they reach St. Louis."

"The World's Fair is a world in miniature. Great things are shown there. Not only in the exhibits in the buildings, but in the exhibits of manufactures, mining, etc. Not one person in a thousand knows anything about how different articles are made, how mining is carried on, etc. All this is interesting and there is practically no other way to learn of them except through the World's Fair."

"Of course, I am not a young man, but I don't mind telling my age. You know it is a matter of record, and just to save you the trouble of looking it up I will tell you. I am 67 years old. I was born the day Queen Victoria ascended to the throne of England."

"From 1861 until 1890 I was United States circuit judge in St. Louis. My territory comprised all the country north of Louisiana, west of the Mississippi and east of the Rocky mountains. I became a member of the supreme court in January, 1891."

"No, it would not be right for me to discuss any phase of the Russian-Japanese war. I really have nothing to say on the subject."

Regarding the presentation of Terminal Railroad matters to the government by the attorney-general of your state, I know nothing. I have not studied the matter in the past, and the probabilities are that I had. I would not care to discuss it.

The International Congress of Lawyers and Jurists is the greatest gathering of legal men ever known in the world.

About the peace congress in St. Louis. Of course all these peace congresses have a tendency to change the opinion of the people, to turn their ideas from war to peace, but that is not the secret of the success of the war question. Commerce will be the one thing which will bring about peace. As the commercial interests of the world grow the

LOUISVILLE GIRLS VIEW IGORROTES

Kentucky Metropolis Celebrates Day at Fair and Blue Grass Maidens Conspicuous.

In compliance with a special request of the Kentucky commission at the World's Fair, the Igorrotes from the Philippine Reservation took part in the celebration of Louisville Day, today, in their native costumes. They were accompanied by a band of music, and Dr. Hunt wanted to dress them up before letting them start on their auto ride that was to terminate at the Kentucky building.

The Kentucky commissioners wouldn't listen to any such proposal, however, and at last the Igorrotes, minus clothes their managers at first wanted them to wear, climbed up into the big auto.

The proverbial pretty girl from Kentucky was very much in evidence at the Kentucky building during the exercises and Louisville contributed many of her beauties in honor of her day at the Fair. Gov. Beckham and his wife were in the crowd, and the Igorrotes were master of ceremonies.

The exercises began at 11 o'clock in the morning with a salute from the Hotchkiss band at one end of the building. Speeches followed by Judge Thomas R. Gordon, Frank C. Nunnemacher and Mayor Charles F. Grainger of Louisville, who was master of ceremonies.

Those of the Igorrotes who could not sing "My Old Kentucky Home" busied themselves making eyes at the pretty girls of the Kentucky campus by the Kentucky militia. At 4:30 o'clock a concert by Wells's band broke the monotony of the exercises. At 5:30 Wehrley's band of Louisville played.

Henry Reiter, 27 years old, residing at Blair avenue and Salisbury street, sustained injuries which will probably cause his death while adjusting a belt at the St. Louis Electric Co.'s factory at the foot of Penrose street, Tuesday noon.

Reiter was caught in the belt and torn from his socket. He also suffered a severe scalp wound and sustained three broken ribs. Doctors say he will probably not recover.

BOY DYING FROM FISH BAIT

Older Lads Made Luckless Fisherman Eat the Worms and His Recovery Is Not Expected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JERSEY SHORE, Pa., Sept. 27.—As a result of being forced to eat angle worms, 10-year-old Willie Hummer, son of A. B. Hummer, is in a serious condition. The boy, with several other lads of his own age, had been out fishing a few days ago, and were returning home in the afternoon. On the way, Hummer says, he met two other boys, each of whom had a worm in his mouth. Hummer says the boys were somewhat older than the Hummers.

"Hummer didn't catch any fish, so we will make him eat the worms," they said.

"With that, the two boys alleged to have pounced on the little fellow and choked a great deal of the worms down his throat. His recovery is doubtful."

ILLEGAL TRANSACTIONS EXTENDED OVER A TERM OF FOUR YEARS

Prosecuting Officer Says Case Parallels Those of Schnell, Kelly and Geraghty Who Were Indicted—Statute of Limitations Would Prevent Prosecution at This Time.

The Post-Dispatch presents today additional and convincing evidence of the unfitness of Cyrus P. Walbridge for the office of Governor of Missouri, for which he is a candidate on the Republican ticket.

It has been shown by the publication of parts of his official public record that when President of the Council he voted with the infamous Comfort combine in support of the Butler garbage grab and other notorious jobs which aroused the indignation of the citizens of St. I. It has shown from the record that as Mayor he appointed disreputable men to office, surrounded himself with lieutenants, some of whom unworthy, and used all of his powers to build up a spoils machine, the predecessor of the vicious Ziegenhein machine.

WALBRIDGE AN OFFICIAL JOBBER

The records published today prove that Col. Walbridge was himself an official jobber profiting by illegal transactions. The records show that while President of the City Council the J. S. Merrell Drug Co., of which Col. Walbridge was then and is now president, furnished three city institutions alone with supplies amounting to $6544.27.

These transactions, in the profits of which Col. Walbridge participated, were contrary to the specific provision of the charter and constitute a violation of the criminal law of the state.

The charter of the city of St. Louis says that no elected or appointed officer of the city shall "be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the city, either for work to be performed or for supplies to be furnished."

The Revised Statutes of Missouri says: "If any city officer shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract under the city, or in any work done by the city, or in furnishing supplies for the city, or any of its institutions, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor."

"FOREVER BARRED FROM PUBLIC OFFICE"

So obnoxious to the law, public policy and public morals is an abuse of official position, in profiting from transactions with the city, that one whose acts are discovered before the statute of limitations applies may be indicted and tried and if convicted may not only be removed from office, but forever barred from holding public office again. The disqualification and disability in such a case would be so absolute that it is beyond the power of a governor to purge by pardon one so placed and beyond the power of a legislature to remove the disqualification by special enactment.

One found guilty of such acts may also be imprisoned in jail for a year or fined.

In the judgment of C. Orrick Bishop, assistant prosecuting attorney, who drew the indictments which were returned by the grand jury in the recent past against Councilman Schnell and Delegates Kelly and Geraghty, wherein they were charged with having been interested in commercial transactions with the city, the circumstances of the dealings between the city and the J. S. Merrell Drug Co., which took place while Mr. Walbridge was president of the company and president of the Council, are parallel to those in the Schnell, Kelly and Geraghty cases.

The Merrell transactions, however, took place between the years 1889 and 1893, and the statute of limitations prevents prosecution. But as the transactions extended over a term of four years, a plea of inadvertence cannot be admitted.

It was impossible to see Col. Walbridge today, as he is out of the city.

The three institutions the records of which are presented are the City Hospital, the City Dispensary and the Female Hospital. The items which follow are copied direct from the warrant book in the City Hall:

These sums were paid to the J. S. Merrell Drug Company, of which Cyrus P. Walbridge was president—and is today—while Col. Walbridge was president of the City Council:

COL. JOHN MOSBY'S HAT FOUND

Headgear Lost by Cavalryman When Shot in Virginia to Go to National Museum.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—After having lived for 50 years in a northern home, the campaign hat worn by Col. John S. Mosby, the Confederate cavalryman, and lost by him when he was shot by two men of the Thirtieth New York Cavalry in Virginia, Dec. 21, 1864, is about to be returned to its original owner.

For many years it has been in the possession of a woman living in this city. Recently she communicated with one of Col. Mosby's comrades now living in Orange, Va., and the relic was undoubtedly that which he wore. It will be sent at once to his comrade in Orange and presented to the Militia Museum in Washington.

going to be a little money spent. We are going to have enough to hang that jury, if not enough to clear the case." He told me that the evidence would be taken from a man that had turned state's evidence to save himself, that a person might easily decide on a verdict of not guilty, without interfering with the feeling of his conscience at all. He explained to me that there would be no checks or big bills passed. That there would probably be $5 to pay expenses of in case we were scratched; that those who remained on the jury and did as they agreed to would receive not less than $20. Then he says, "Is it a go?" I says, "Yes." I got up and walked out. Well, in the meantime he told me, he says, "You have not been summoned, I don't think I am getting out of the way in talking to you before you are summoned." I saw no more of Joe that afternoon. I got my rig and my wife and went home.

Q. How did he tell you he was going to get the money? A. He did not tell me. He told me he would go to St. Louis. He says, "I am going to St. Louis the last of next week or the week later." I says, "Well, I probably won't be up here any more before the trial." He says, "That is all right. Everything will be fixed."

Q. Were you ever summoned? Was there ever any summons served on you? A. No, sir. No service issued at all.

Q. The only summons you have received was this conversation with the sheriff, in which he says would you like to serve on the jury? A. He told me, he says, "I don't know that I can get down there to summon you."

Q. The sheriff? A. Yes, sir; but you can consider yourself summoned to be here.

Q. Was that before you had your talk with Mr. Francisco? A. Yes, sir; that was said to me. Well, as I told you, I have not talked with Smith since. This last week after reading the papers I saw that Kratz had an operation performed on him. I did not know whether the case would be called or not. I was working on the roads and Mr. Lapey passed coming up here. I says, "You ask Joe if he wants me to be there Monday."

Q. Have you seen Mr. Francisco today? A. I saw him on the street and he came downstairs to where I was and called me off and asked me if he talked with after I was summoned. I told him that he did not, because I never had been summoned.

Q. Haven't you been summoned yet? A. No, sir. I have not been summoned yet. I understood I was on this jury.

Q. Did he deny that he offered you any money? Or did he say anything about that at all? A. He did not mention it.

Q. Have you received a check for $25? A. No, sir. I have not received a cent.

Q. They did not send you the $25? A. No, sir. I will have to pay my own expenses this time.

Q. Do you know of any others on the jury? A. I am not acquainted with another man on the jury. I don't know of another man that was summoned.

Q. You are willing to make oath to all of this? A. Yes, sir. I never would have told it had I not been.

Hunt is of excellent family and bears a fine reputation in Bates county. He lives five miles from Appleton City. His wife was Miss Bertha Blackwell, whose mother is a large property owner and a senator. Senator Cockrell. His affidavit was a complete surprise to the Kratz attorneys, Judge Thomas B. Harvey of St. Louis, to Attorney Francisco and Clark of Butler and to Judge Graves, prosecuting attorney, and others interested in the case.

Wanted Delay
Until January.

It is believed that the verbal summons served upon Hunt by Sheriff Smith will hold good, as it is the custom in Bates county to merely notify jurors to be present without making a formal service.

This new turn in the trial of Kratz calls to mind the dismissal of the other jury panel, when Sheriff Smith asked Judge Graves for another chance.

The Kratz case will come up Dec. 12. Circuit Attorney Folk and Judge Harvey argued heatedly over the length of the delay to be granted. Judge Harvey asking that the case go over until the first week in January.

To this Mr. Folk objected, saying that he would go out of office Jan. 1; his successor could not be presumed to know so much of the case.

Dr. G. Wiley Broome testified at length concerning the condition of Kratz, saying that he would not be fully recovered from the operation performed on him for 13 weeks, and Judge Graves continued the case until Dec. 12, 11 weeks from the date of the operation.

HE RESENTS LOSS OF SEAT.
World's Fair Visitor Asks Discharge of Two Jefferson Guards.

Frank Englehardt, a mechanical engineer with an office in room 735 of the Marquette building, Chicago, has made a written complaint against two members of the Jefferson Guard at the World's Fair to President Francis, and his allegations are being investigated.

Englehardt writes that he visited the World's Fair Sept. 13 with his wife, and that while they sat on a bench at the north end of the Grand Basin at 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon, a launch and gondola company came up and demanded the bench, saying it was wanted for use on a bandstand. Englehardt demurred and appealed to a Jefferson Guard, who turned away, saying he knew nothing about it; that a guard wearing a badge marked "inspector" came along at that moment, and upon hearing Englehardt's complaint informed Englehardt that he would have to give up the bench. Englehardt asks that these two men be discharged.

DEATH COMES TO VETERAN RECTOR

Rev. Dr. P. G. Robert Dies, Aged 77 Years, After Long Illness With Heart Disease.

The funeral of Rev. Dr. Patrick G. Robert, for many years rector of the Church of the Holy Communion and one of the best known clergymen in St. Louis, who died Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock at his home, 324 Washington avenue, will be held in the church whose pastorate he resigned several years ago on account of ill health. Dr. Robert's death followed a long illness with heart disease.

Dr. Robert's widow, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth Scott of Greenville County, Virginia, and five sons survive him. They are: John G. Robert and Edward S. Robert of 4140 Lindell boulevard; Lee Edward Robert, who lives at the family residence on Washington avenue; Douglas W. Robert of 490 Forest Park boulevard, and Dent H. Robert, now managing editor of the San Francisco Examiner.

Dr. Robert was born in Richmond, Va., Dec. 16, 1827. He was educated at the Richmond Academy and later was graduated from the Alexandria Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Va. He was chaplain of the Second Louisiana and Thirty-

Fourth Virginia regiments during the civil war. At the close of the war he became rector of Christ Church at Little Rock, where he remained until 1863, when he came to St. Louis.

On coming to St. Louis in 1863, Dr. Robert took charge of a new parish of the Trinity Church. Services were held in a little wooden schoolhouse in Morgan street, between Leffingwell avenue and Twenty-ninth street. The name of the Church of Holy Communion was given the parish and it grew steadily until it is now one of the largest in St. Louis.

The funeral of Rev. Dr. Robert will be held at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the Church of the Holy Communion at Twenty-eighth street and Washington avenue. Burial will take place in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

CHILDREN GRIEVE OVER HIS DEATH

"Man Who Read the Paper Upside Down" Is Killed in Street Car Accident.

Arthur Gallagher.

Sorrow has come to a circle of children from the Webster school in North St. Louis and the sad little faces of the chosen few who knew him are mourning the loss of the best loved one of their number, the man who could read the wonderful stories, the man who read the paper upside down.

Anthony Gallagher, one of the oldest and best known citizens of North St. Louis, was struck by a northbound Transit car of the Jefferson avenue division at Jefferson avenue and Dickson street early Monday morning. He sustained a severe fracture of the skull and was removed to the City Hospital, where he died a few hours later.

In the neighborhood where he lived he was the chief adviser and friend of all the children, whose affectionate regard he won by his simple kindness. He was famous as "the man who read the paper upside down." He gained this distinction through his love of entertaining the little folks. When school was over he would gather a crowd about him and with the newspaper which he invariably carried they would go over to the Old Iron Fence Park.

He was in the rear coach of the excursion train with a company of the Missouri Pacific, a St. Louis militia company of which he was a member, when the front coaches of the train crashed through the bridge, realizing the extent of the calamity, he left the train and ran to the aid of the injured, he was killed by the falling train. His action saved many lives.

When a young man Gallagher left Ireland and came to Philadelphia, here he worked as a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad. In 1882 he came to St. Louis and took a similar position on the St. Louis Republic. He remained in this position 22 years, and came to be known as "the fireman who read the paper upside down."

In giving 3 per cent interest and special dividends out of the profits, the savings department of Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co. certainly offers a good proposition.

GRANDJURY'S REPORT DELAYED

Scheel Murder, Registration Frauds and Grade Crossings Disaster Included in Investigation.

Entering on the last week of its work, the grand jury has so many important matters to investigate that its report will probably not be presented to Judge Taylor before the end of the session.

Among the important cases which will come before this grand jury for investigation this week are the Scheel murder, the Sarah street grade crossing disaster, fraudulent registration and river gambling. While the St. Louis grand jury has no jurisdiction in St. Louis County, it is expected that some cognizance of the state of affairs recently disclosed there will be taken by the grand jury.

The work of the grand jury has been greatly furthered by Assistant Circuit Attorney W. Scott Hancock, who has dissected all the routing business and cases that came under his jurisdiction as they came up. The grand jury will be able to confine its attention to important matters which arose during and immediately after the vacation.

This grand jury, of which Edward H. Roelken is foreman, is called the vacation grand jury because it is in session four months which include the summer vacation. Until its session this week, it has met but one day during the vacation period.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss GULLA GANNON, 859 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association.

It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will certainly cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all; and for this absolute cure of all kinds of female ills no substitute can possibly take its place. Women should bear this important fact in mind when they go into a drug store, and be sure not to accept anything that is claimed to be "just as good" as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for no other medicine for female ills has made so many actual cures.

How Another Sufferer Was Cured. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot praise your wonderful remedies enough for they have done more good than all the doctors I have had. For the last eight years and more I suffered with female troubles, was very weak, could not do my housework, also had nervous prostration. Some days I would remain unconscious for a whole day and night. My neighbors thought I could never recover, but, thanks to your medicine, I now feel like a different woman."

"I feel very grateful to you and will recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all. It has now been four years since I had the last spell of nervous prostration. I only weighed ninety-eight pounds at that time; now I weigh one hundred and twenty-three. I consider your Vegetable Compound the finest remedy made. Thanking you many times for the benefit I received from your medicine, I remain, yours truly, Mrs. J. H. FARMER, 2809 Elliott Ave., St. Louis, Mo."

Remember Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free and all sick women are foolish if they do not ask for it. She speaks from the widest experience, and has helped multitudes of women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

REGISTRATION QUIET, SAYS CHIEF KIELY

He Tells Governor That School Killing Was "Precipitated" by Beck, Republican Judge.

DENIES BECK'S RIGHT TO ACT

He Should Have Taken Names, Chief Says, and Left the Rest to Canvassers.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21. A. M. Dockery, Governor, Jefferson City, Mo., No violence at any registration here. Man shot by accident Monday in effort started by Republican judge of election by several alleged "Indians" whom he had refused to enroll.

Beck, who was held for the killing by the police, was discharged at the coroner's inquest. The grand jury now has the case under advisement.

Immediately after news of the trouble reached him, Gov. Dockery wired Chief Kiely from Hoquiam, Mo., as follows: "Matthew Kiely, Chief of Police, St. Louis. Papers report violence in connection with registration. I do not know facts, but you must maintain order and protect the rights of every citizen at all hazards. Wire me at Marshall."

To this Chief Kiely sent the message quoted above.

In reply thereto, Gov. Dockery Sept. 21 wired Chief Kiely as follows: "Please make full report to me at Jefferson City, Mo., on the 24th inst. A number of men entered the registration office at 501 North Fourteenth street, at which point Beck was a judge, and stated they desired to register from the Jefferson Hotel. While they were registering Beck was shot and killed. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck."

Says Beck Begun Trouble at Polls.

Chief Kiely's answer was as follows: ST. LOUIS, Sept. 24. Hon. A. M. Dockery, Jefferson City, Mo.: Dear Sir—Replying to your telegram of the date in reference to alleged violence and fraud in connection with registration in this city this week, I beg to state that there was but one disturbance incident to the registration, and that disturbance was precipitated by Oliver J. Beck, a Republican registration judge.

At 2 p. m. on the 24th inst. a number of men entered the registration office at 501 North Fourteenth street, at which point Beck was a judge, and stated they desired to register from the Jefferson Hotel. While they were registering Beck was shot and killed. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck.

There is no reason to think that there would be the least trouble at any of the registration places, as ordinarily no points are calculated to bring about a dispute. The only trouble that occurred was the shooting of Beck. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck. He was shot and killed by two men, one of whom was named Beck.

I will add that both Chief Desmond and myself are working most assiduously on this case. We have had about 60 suspects identified in the hope that they could be identified as the four men who pursued Beck, but as yet his assailants have not been identified. We are still working on the case and will continue to do so to the best of our ability.

The governor's reply was: JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 25, 1904. Hon. Matthew Kiely, Chief of Police. Dear Sir: Upon my return home I find your favor of the 24th inst. I am very glad to have a detailed report of the work of the police department. Of course the work of registration is a matter committed by law to the election board and its appointees, and my only object in calling this matter to your attention was to see that order was preserved and the rights of all citizens protected. The killing of an innocent bystander was most unfortunate, and I feel sure that you will continue in connection with Chief Desmond to employ every agency to discover the perpetrator of the most infamous outrage.

With best wishes, yours sincerely, A. M. DOCKERY.

To have your money safely invested and get the best returns is very satisfactory. See savings department of Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co., 312 Olive street.

Hale Fire Fighters Worth Seeing. When you see Hale Firefighters on fire you see best show at the Fair.

Overdoing It.

Oh, how he used to chin that girl!
Oh, how he'd chew the rag!
He acted like some foolish churl
Who had a verbal jag.
However much he might rejoice
To speak those words of fire,
She shivered when she heard his voice
Come sizzling o'er the wire.

Full off did Flo against the wall
Hold up the black receiver,
And there was nothing—nay—in all
The wide world to relieve her,
Until she cried in grim despair—
Let lovers will who scoff—
"Oh, Charlie, cease to chew the air;
My arm is coming off!"

In St. Louis there is an advocate of the strenuous moral life, who is no less earnest in his advocacy of the need of high endeavor in this line than Theodore Roosevelt has shown himself to be in the spread of the doctrine of the strenuous life physical.

When Judge William Jefferson Pollard, sitting with the ermine of the Dayton street police court around him, bade two female defendants, in lieu of a fine, to fly to the dung heap and wash their mouths and then to hasten home and sit on an ash heap begirt with gunny sacks, he certainly set a pace in moral strenuousness which the sombered brow of the judge himself could not follow.

It may be hard, in order to reach the lofty heights to which ambition spurs the soul, to put forth continually those mighty physical and mental efforts which are attendant upon the attainment of greatness, but what more galling pace could be set for humanity than to cleanse the mouth with fiery dross as a token of washing away all sin, while one had pined from the first, and to sit on one's own back yard, in full view of the neighbors, on an ashpile, clothed in a gunny sack bearing the trade mark of some commoner than the human race.

In view of this Pollard's pronouncement it

John Foreman writes in the Contemporary Review a long account of the causes which have led to the unpopularity of the Americans in the Philippine Islands, wholly aside from the natives' aspiration for freedom.

The picture of the beginnings of American rule is rather discouraging. Says Mr.

The American "volunteer" regiments marched into Manila in good order like regular troops, but as soon as the novelty of their strange environment had worn off, they gave themselves up to all sorts of excesses, debauchery and vice. "Drinking bars were opened all over the city and suburbs. Drunken brawls, indecent exposure, street fighting, indecent assaults on women, fights and robberies, and burglary in broad daylight and thefts from shops and street vendors were of hourly occurrence."

Toward evening intoxicated groups took possession of the highways, entered any Filipino's house, maltreated the inmates, and then proceeded to the streets to ravage the women. Especially in the suburban thoroughfares no Native life, liberty or honor was to survive the day's drinking. As the heads of the household were seen lying helpless in doorways or in the gutters—a sad spectacle

"The elite of Philippine society, accustomed to the graceful manners and chivalrous bearing which distinguished the Spaniard, assumed that the better class of Americans would be no less courteous and considerate of personal dignity and social decorum. Hence they wished to invite them to their well-appointed houses, give entertainments in their honor and extend to them that hospitality which is innate in the American people. But they were sorely disappointed. But they found no response to their desire to win over the newcomers to their standard of polite intercourse.

"To give one instance, a Philippine lady in good society, Sra. de R., announced a party to her husband and several other guests. Her equal rank were welcomed. Naturally leading Filipinos with their women sassinas was in waiting to give them more drink and finally to cast their dead bodies into a ditch close by.

"The life of an American was not really safe, and they were while in the district of Loma so many corpses were found that for a long time Americans avoided that quarter. Even the children in the streets were taught to sing:

"One, two, three, patay Americano, Americano, Americano, Americano, Americano."

Mr. Foreman admits that the civil commission headed by Gov. Taft tried with tact and firmness to better things, but he considers that the difficulties of the task are greatly augmented by the bad beginning and by the attitude of the Americans and upon treating the natives as "niggers."

The following interesting facts concerning the cereal crops of the United States were taken from an article entitled "What American Crops Mean to the World," by Frank Fayant in the October Success:

Between the two oceans we raise one-fifth of the world's wheat, four-fifths of its corn, one-fourth of its oats, and four-fifths of its cotton. This harvest is the foundation of our prosperity.

Agriculture this year will add about four billion dollars to the country's wealth, and foreign customers will pay us not far from $300,000,000 for our agricultural products, shipped to them over the sea.

In the past three years, while our exports have averaged more than fourteen hundred million dollars, agriculture's share in this trade has been nearly nine hundred million.

All the gold in America—the greatest hoard of the yellow metal ever gathered in any country—could not buy one year's harvest of our corn and wheat. To buy one season's wheat crop would take all the gold mined in this country in six years. In the past seven years all the gold mines have only produced enough to buy one year's yield of our six leading cereals.

It is the American farmer who has paid off our huge indebtedness to Europe, who has brought back our securities from foreign banks, and who has sent American capital around the world looking for investment.

More than one-third of all our export trade has been in the two great crops—wheat and cotton.

Cotton is assuming a more important position in our foreign trade. Our southern plantations, producing all but a fifth of the cotton of the world, have a monopoly of the trade.

What England would do, and how her people would subsist, if deprived suddenly of her American source of supplies, it is difficult to imagine. It is no secret in European politics that England normally has in store only a few weeks' supply of food, and, at times, the reserve would last only a few days.
